

Change Life through Education

The 12th of June each year is a special day for all child Labour in the world. It inspires them in their rights. Poverty and shocks play a key role in driving children to work. This year, World Day Against Child Labour draws attention to the role of social protection in keeping children out of child labour and removing them from it.

SOHAY a Non-government organization and other five likeminded organization observed the day. They gathered large number of Child, and organized human chain in capital of Dhaka city to aware people about Child Labour and removing them from it. This year the theme of the day was “Extend Social Protection: To Combat Child Labour !”.

“Hazardous working children to mainstream education” under this project children Tomal ,Munna, Loboni and others 10 children join this human chain and they loudly speaking “ We are not want to work, We want to read”. It’s a very tremendous argument message of our society.

This project is to reach up to the Hazardous working children and help them in association with formal education and there after making them skilled and self sufficient. In case of school dropouts parents and children need to be continuously counseled and encouraged to go back to school.

SOHAY have withdrawn 64 hazardous working children from different type of hazardous work like motor graze, woven work, welding work, etc and admitted them to government primary school. SOHAY provided School Uniform, School Bag, for those Child Labour Children. SOHAY organizing sensitization meeting with Parents & Community and aware about bad effectiveness of child labour.
